Despite the mains of the sea that go back to at least 1400 years old, in the last few weeks, Nathan Evans comes sharing his releases from his favorite ye 'Olde Mar Shams á á € "Like á €" Scotsmaná Á € á € á € "Á € á €" - á € - - á € € "That since then it became the Anthem Fed up of the Tiktok sea not official. Very similar to how the tiktokan € musical operated, Seashantytok is built on creators that transform a music that already exists using Evans audio or creating duet currents of their original video. Although the idea of a sést of voices, harmonies and instruments in an audio track can sound overwhelming, it really works well. This is because traditionally the marble favelas would be led by a single favelon, with the rest of the crew joining. So when it comes to "Bella &", Evans acts like Shantymen, with the rest of the Seashantytok fall into the function crew. It's the result?
